Dear citizens.

The Ministry of Finance and Treasury of Bosnia and Herzegovina continues its activities on improving budget transparency, which includes the preparation and publication of the Budget for Citizens. In this regard, the publication "Budget for Citizens of BiH institutions and international obligations of BiH for 2023" was prepared as an illustrated guide to clearly and simply show how money is collected and spent from the Budget of BiH institutions and international obligations of BiH.

Our wish is that, by continuing this activity, we will become even more open and responsible towards citizens in terms of planning, managing and using the financial resources of BiH institutions.

The purpose of this document is to provide the public with a better insight and understanding of how institutions at the state level plan, allocate and spend public funds from the budget. Bearing in mind that the money in the budget comes from taxpayers, it is our obligation to use it in the best interest of all citizens of Bosnia and Herzegovina and to present clear and comprehensible data on the sources of the collected funds and how they are spent.

This document is intended for everyone who wants to be informed about the plans of individual institutions of BiH, as well as for all those who want to monitor how money is spent to achieve set goals.

The Budget for Citizens for the year 2023 includes an abbreviated review of the budgets of six more institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina (the publications for 2020 and 2022 included the budgets of six different institutions) with the aim of further familiarizing the public with the competences of the institutions of BiH.

I sincerely hope that this document will provide answers to key questions regarding the budget of BiH institutions and international obligations of BiH, but also encourage as many actors as possible to express their opinions and suggestions, which will be the basis for the preparation of the Budget for Citizens in the upcoming period.

We are open to citizens more significantly participating in the budget process to prepare future publications of the "Budget for Citizens", despite the constitutional limitations in the budget structure of BiH institutions. We want to create a more accessible and comprehensible budget, as this is also one of the starting points for improving the management of public finances.

We look forward to the cooperation in the upcoming period.

Best regards,

Minister

he money that government institutions at all levels dispose of in their budgets is the money of the citizens. Government revenues come from citizens through taxes and payment of various fees and charges. In addition, revenues come from concessions for the use of resources that are part of the common heritage and therefore belong to all citizens. Even when revenue comes from credits, the citizens will ultimately have to repay them. Government institutions are responsible for funds within the budget and decide on behalf of the citizens about the allocation of collected funds for various purposes.

Bearing in mind that the budget is also a reflection of public policies, it becomes clear why in countries with a developed democratic culture there is significant public interest in numerous matters concerning the budget. Citizens want to know and decide how their money will be spent. The basic prerequisite for citizens to participate in the budget decision-making process is how well they are informed. Accordingly, it is the task of the authorities to ensure the publicity of the work and to provide information on all important issues in the process of creating, adopting and executing the budget.

The Budget for Citizens is a document that summarizes and clarifies basic information concerning the budget. It is a report, presented in an accessible format, which uses simple and clear language that citizens can understand. If they are able to understand, citizens can then exercise their civil rights in a democracy – they can ask questions that ensure that the government explains what it is doing on their behalf.

Jurisdictions of institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina

According to Article III of the Constitution of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the following tasks are under the jurisdiction of the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina:

- a) Foreign policy,
- b) Foreign trade policy,
- c) customs policy,
- d) monetary policy,
- e) Financing of institutions and international obligations of Bosnia and Herzegovina,
- f) Policy and regulation of immigration, refugee and asylum issues,
- g) Implementation of international and inter-entity criminal law regulations, including relations with Interpol,
- h) Establishment and functioning of joint and international means of communication,
- i) Regulation of inter-entity transport,
- j) Air traffic control.

The Constitution stipulates in the same article that all governmental functions and powers not expressly assigned by the Constitution to the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina belong to the entities. At the same time, Bosnia and Herzegovina can assume jurisdiction in those matters in which the entities reach an agreement, matters that are provided for in Annexes 5-8 of the General Framework Agreement, or which are necessary to preserve the sovereignty, territorial integrity, political independence and international subjectivity of Bosnia and Herzegovina, in accordance with the division of jurisdictions among the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Additional institutions may be established to perform these jurisdictions, as necessary.

Currently, there are 75 budget beneficiaries in Bosnia and Herzegovina, i.e., different institutions (ministries, agencies, regulatory bodies, judicial institutions, etc.) that are direct beneficiaries of the Budget of the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the international obligations of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Legal framework

The Law on Financing the Institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina regulates the preparation, adoption, execution, accounting, reporting and supervision of the Budget of Bosnia and Herzegovina. According to this law, the Budget is an act of the Parliamentary Assembly of Bosnia and Herzegovina which determines the plan for the financial activities of budget beneficiaries, including the projection of the amount of revenues and the determined amount of expenses for the period of one fiscal year. This budget also establishes the upper limit of the entire debt of Bosnia and Herzegovina, including the existing debt and the projection of new debt for a given fiscal year. Budget beneficiaries are also defined, namely all institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina and all other bodies financed from the budget, as well as regulatory bodies.

The Ministry of Finance and Treasury of Bosnia and Herzegovina is responsible for the preparation of the budget, its execution and the financing of budgetary institutions, the coordination of activities in order to secure budget funds and investments of public funds. It also performs other activities concerning the financing of budget beneficiaries in accordance with the Constitution and the law.

The budget process is based on the prescribed activities of all participants in the process of preparing and adopting the Budget of the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the international obligations of Bosnia and Herzegovina, as well as its execution, reporting and control.

The year 2020, both in the world and in Bosnia and Herzegovina, was marked by a health and economic crisis that caused a 3.2% drop in GDP (Agency for Statistics of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Press release, "Gross domestic product, expenditure approach for 2020", February 28, 2022). However, already in early 2021, the epidemiological and economic conditions in the external environment gradually stabilized (EU27 countries), which had a positive effect on economic activity in the country. Namely, the recovery of primarily export and later domestic demand resulted in a relatively strong recovery of economic activity in the country. According to official data, Bosnia and Herzegovina recorded real GDP growth of 7.6% in 2021 compared to the previous year (Agency for Statistics of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Press release, "Gross domestic product, expenditure approach for 2021", October, 2022). However, it is worth pointing out that this relatively high rate of economic growth is largely a consequence of the low base (base effect) from the previous year, given that Bosnia and Herzegovina recorded a drop in GDP of over 3% in the previous year. On the other hand, if the economic growth in Bosnia and Herzegovina in 2021 is observed comparatively by country, it can be stated that it was in the range of the regional average of the countries of the Western Balkans, which was 7.5%.

By looking at the structure of this relatively strong economic growth, it can be concluded that it was achieved mostly thanks to the increase in domestic demand (consumption and investments), while the contribution of the external sector, despite high growth rates, was negative.

Taking into account the external and internal circumstances, according to DEP projections in the period 2023-2025, economic growth can be expected in Bosnia and Herzegovina with an average economic growth rate of about 2.5% annually (2023: 1.7%, 2024: 2.7% and in 2025 3.0%).

Macroeconomics

the field of economic sciences that deals with the total economy of an area (country), studying the interrelationships of total (aggregate) production, income, employment, prices and other variables.

Nominal GDP

is the sum of the quantities of produced final goods (goods and services) by resident units in the country during a certain period multiplied by their current prices.

Real GDP

is the sum of the quantities of final goods at constant (instead of current) prices and indicates the quantity of produced products and services.

Economic growth is the total increase in production, production capacities and all other parts of an economy, i.e., the growth of the total output of an economy due to the growth of labor force, capital goods and the improvement of technology and productivity.

Gross domestic product (BDP) macroeconomic indicator showing the value of final goods and services produced in the country during the year, expressed in monetary units.

Inflation

is the increase in the general level of prices in relation to the value of money.

Government/public spending

(Expenditures for final government consumption) - The government sector consists of all institutional units that, in addition to fulfilling their political obligations and the role of economic regulation, in principle produce nonmarket services (also goods) for individual or collective consumption and redistribute income and wealth. Expenditures for final government consumption include two expenditure categories:

- Non-market output, excluding investments for own account, which is measured by production costs, minus occasional sales.
- Government purchases of goods and services from market producers, which are marketed to households without any transformation, as a social transfer "in kind".

Foreign trade exchange is the overall exchange of goods and services of one country with another country (import and export of goods and services).

Revenues, receipts and financing

Budget revenues of BiH institutions are planned based on the Global Framework of Fiscal Balance and Policies in Bosnia and Herzegovina 2023-2025.

The basic revenue within the Budget of the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the international obligations of BiH for the year 2023 is tax revenue, i.e., revenue from the Single Account of the Indirect Taxation Authority for the financing of BiH institutions (1,020,500,000 KM).

Other revenues and support for the financing of BiH institutions are non-tax revenues (152,118,000 KM) and transfers from other levels of government (692,000 KM). Financing and receipts include the transferred surplus of funds from previous years (141,100,000 BAM), and receipts from the sale of fixed assets (990,000 BAM).

Finally, it should be added that revenues of the Budget of the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the international obligations of Bosnia and Herzegovina also include revenues to finance public debt in the amount of 1,245,966,362 BAM, and refer to the settlement of the obligations of the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina, entities and Brčko District.
